BEAUTIFUL WEDDING AT TA-KOMA CHURCH LAST NIGHT.

Large Circles of Friends-

Other Nuptials of Great Interest to Personal Notes.

The social event of the season at Takoma

Park took place last evening at 8 o'clock at the Takoma Presbyterian Church, when Miss Maud May Watkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Watkins, and Mr. William Edgar Dyre, both of Takoma Park, were married. The church was filled to overflowing with friends and relatives of the contracting parties, the guests being seated by the four ushers-Mr. Clyde Lamond, Dr. Archie L. Miller, Mr. George E. Miller and Mr. E. Norman Jackson, who later preceded the bridal party to the altar. The chancel was profusely decorated with palms, ferns, potted plants and foliage.intermingled with white iris and white lilies, presenting a most beautiful effect. In the central aisle, at the chancel, was erected a double arch of green and white, with a large white bell suspended from the lower arch, beneath which the bridal party stood throughout the ceremony. From the center of the larger arch long streamers of daisies extended to the windows of the chancel, forming a per-fect canopy. To the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Mr. James W. Dyre, brother of the groom, the bridal party entered the church, preceded by the four ushers, followed by Miss Gertrude Eleanor Dyre and Miss Anna Watkins, the flower girls, and Miss Elsie M. Watkins, sis-ter of the bride, as maid of honor. The bride entered with her father, who gave bride entered with her father, who gave her away at the chancel, where the groom and his best man, Mr. John B. Danforth, met her. The ceremony was performed by Rev. John Van Ness, pastor of the Holmesburg Presbyterian Church, Philadelphia, formerly pastor of the Takoma Presbyterian Church, assisted by Rev. Thomas Cuberson Clark, D. D., the present pastor of the Takoma church. The charming bride wore a beautiful dress of white net over silk, trimmed with white princess lace, and silk, trimmed with white princess lace, and carried a large bouquet of bride's roses. The maid of honor wore white organdle trimwith lace, and carried a bouquet of pink sweet peas. The flower girls, Miss Gertrude Dyre and Miss Anna Watkins, wore white batiste, trimmed with lace and wore white batiste, trimmed with lace and embroidery, each carrying a basket of daisies. As the bridal party left the church Mr. Dyre played a march, which was com-

COSTS NURSE LIFE.

Eleanor M. Buckley, a Friend to the Friendles, Dies as Result of Labors. Weakened by overwork among the poor on Blackwell's and Randall's islands, Miss Eleanor M. Buckley, a nurse, died yesterday in the Cumberland Street Hospital Brooklyn, where she was graduated last July. Infection through a vaccination wound ended her life after a heroic struggle for more than five months. Every surgeon and physician in the hospital worked night and day to save her life.

After her graduation Miss Buckley went to Blackwell's and Randall's islands to work among the poor for experience, and because she said she wished to do somebecause she said she wished to do some-thing to make their lives happy. Early in January she accepted a position in the Kingston Avenue Hospital, and when she entered that institution was vaccinated. Her efforts in the first few months of her career had overtaxed her strength, and in her run down condition the vaccination proved to be as bad as smallpox. She stayed in that institution ten days and then was taken to the Cumberland Street Hospital. She was widely known among physicians, who united to save her life.

Held on Murder Charge. As a result of the hearing at Sloux Falls

S. D., yesterday regarding the death of Agnes Polreis, Mrs. Kauffmann was held on a charge of murder. The case will be called for trial in November. Miss Polreis, who was seventeen years old, died June 1 and was buried at Parkston, this state. The body was later exhumed and was found to bear forty-five separate wounds.
